

IN SUCH PAIN WOMAN CRIED

Suffered Everything Until Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Florence, So. Dakota.—"I used to be very sick every month with bearing down pains and backache, and had headache a good deal of the time and very little appetite. The pains were so bad that I used to sit right down on the floor and cry, because it hurt me so and I could not do any work at those times. An old woman advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I got a bottle. I felt better the next month so I took three more bottles of it and got well so I could work all the time. I hope every woman who suffers like I did will try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. F. W. JANSSEN, Box 8, Allyn, Wash.

Why will women continue to suffer day in and day out or drag out a sickly, half-hearted existence, missing three-fourths of the joy of living, when they can find health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?

For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has restored the health of thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, etc.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

CRUELTY IS ALLEGED

By Former Knox County Woman Seeking A Divorce

Injunction Suit Filed Against Two Officials

To Prevent Collection Of Street Paving Assessment

To Hear Habeas Corpus Matter On Saturday

Other Items Of Interest From The Court House Records

Covilla Kelley seeks probate court in her effort to secure a divorce from William Kelley, Carl Norpell, attorney.

Briefly, it is related that they were married May 27, 1909, in Bladensburg, Knox county, Ohio. They have no children, but she charges him with being an habitual drinker. Extreme cruelty, also alleged, lends a sombre color to the other allegations of wrong doing. It is specified that as recently as July 10, last, he struck her in the face with his hand, scratched her, choked her, pulled her hair and kicked her.

Further, that he called her harsh names in the presence of the boarders and strangers. He compelled her to keep boarders as a means of livelihood, though he had a bank deposit of two or three thousand dollars. She was granted an injunction to prevent the bank from paying him and defeating her claim for alimony.

She asks for a divorce and permanent alimony.—Newark American Tribune.

Injunction Suit—

Edward O. Arnold, A. F. Stauffer and Charles F. Colville have commenced a suit for injunction in the Knox county common pleas court against Lloyd M. Bell, treasurer of Knox county, and Walter M. Riley, auditor of Knox county. The plaintiffs claim to have an interest in property on North Sandusky street, formerly owned by Orelle Bassinger. The allegation is made that when Sandusky street was paved and sewered that the city council made an excessive assessment against the property, and that it was not a fair amount for the depth of the lots. The plaintiffs state that the treasurer and auditor have levied on the property and that they are about to collect an assessment amounting to $59.76. The plaintiffs ask that the defendant be enjoined from collecting the assessment and upon final hearing that the injunction be made perpetual. The attorneys for the plaintiffs are Ewalt & Blair.

Hearing in Common Pleas—

The hearings of Wallace Severns and J. Harry Diamond, charged with violating the Harrison drug law, will come up in common pleas court Saturday morning at 9 o'clock, instead of before the mayor as announced. B. K. Epp, attorney for both men, instituted habeas corpus proceedings and asked that the men be released for the reason that this was a federal case and the mayor had no jurisdiction to issue a warrant for the arrest of the two men. Judge Blair will hear the matter Saturday morning. In the meantime, as stated before in the Banner, the bond of Severns was reduced from $1,000 to $200 by Judge Blair and Severns has been released from custody, having given bond. Diamond's bond was also reduced from $1,000 to $200 but he was unable to give bond and is still in jail.

Executrix Appointed—

Anna J. Daniels has been appointed executrix of Oramel G. Daniels. No bond and no appraisal.

Many Leases Filed—

The Ohio Fuel Supply Company filed a large number of leases in the office of the county recorder Thursday for land throughout Knox county for gas and oil purposes.

Inventory and Appraisal—
In the matter of the estate of Eliza

Myers, an inventory and appraisal has been filed, which shows the following: Real estate $1,300.

Will Admitted—

The last will and testament of Eliza Meyers, late of Mt. Vernon, has been admitted to probate.

Deed Filed—

Charity A. Robinson to George R. Craft, 53.72 acres in Middlebury, $1,000.

ATTORNEY

Waited For A Train Which Did Not Stop

Attorney William Hosack is thoroughly disgusted over an experience he had in Danville Thursday. Having finished business he was transacting there, Mr. Hosack proceeded to the station to wait for the train which would return him to Mt. Vernon at 12:08 p. m. He waited and waited, heard several trains go by, but as none stopped, kept on with some reading he was doing. Finally, pulling out his watch, he discovered that his train was past due. A bystander yielded the information that the train was not late, but did not stop at Danville. Rather than wait until evening, Mr. Hosack started to "hoof it" home. He had gone only several miles, when a kind-hearted automobilist passed, invited him to clamber in and drove him through to Mt. Vernon.

FALSE

Was Report That Charles Rossi Had Been Murdered

John Shields of this city received a letter Thursday from Tony Rossi, dated July 21 and written from New Bethlehem, Pa. The letter contained nothing of unusual interest and it is accordingly assumed that the report that Charles Rossi had been murdered by Black Handers in New Bethlehem is false, since the deed was said to have been committed on July 20. Tony Rossi is a brother of Charles Rossi.

DIVORCE

Likely To Follow This Man's Discovery, It Is Said

His suspicions aroused by numerous stories afloat, a man shoved open the door of an east end residence Thursday evening and discovered his wife in a very compromising situation with another man. Hot words followed on both sides and the matter ended by the man's literally forcing his wife to leave. Divorce proceedings will probably follow.

TELEPHONE

Operators Hold A Convention At Mansfield

A convention of independent and Ohio state telephone operators from the exchanges throughout the counties of Ashland, Crawford, Holmes, Knox, Marion, Morrow, Richland and Wayne, met for a two days' session in the auditorium of the library building at Mansfield, O., on Thursday, July 22. The operators of many of the exchange offices were present as guests of the Mansfield Telephone and Ohio State Telephone Companies.

The meeting was in fact a school of telephony, but at the same time the sessions were separated by luncheons and excursions in manner, as it were, of a mid-summer outing.

It is peculiar to telephone work, as to no other, that the operators present from the various exchanges, who have never seen each other, are actually well acquainted, so far as name, voice, temper, ways of business and willingness or unwillingness to accommodate are concerned—all such items of the individual make-up are conveyed by long distance wires, whether the speaker desires to send them or not, and the operators are able by the voice without further introduction to recognize their friends at a word.

The meeting is the eighth of a series of twelve meetings arranged by the Ohio State Telephone company to be held throughout the state. The object of the company is to furnish instructions and drill in the use of new rules recently published for the conduct for long distance business.

The recent rapid growth in the patronage of long distance lines, caused not only by the new subscribers, but by growing appreciation among business men of the benefits to them and the general public from such use, made such drill necessary. An order for something temporarily out of stock, for which an unexpected order, packed at the factory, or whole-sale house miles away, and on its way to a consumer before a letter, waiting the scheduled departure of the mails, would have started from the post office.

The Mt. Vernon Telephone Co. was represented by E. O. Arnold, general manager, Misses Anna Peeney, Lela Stokes, Alice Shaw, Florence Cochran, Nellie Melton and Mayne Hubbard of Mt. Vernon, O., Mrs. Allen of Gambier, and Miss Traxler of Fredericktown.

The guests were entertained at luncheon on Thursday at the Southern hotel, and went in the evening by special car to Casino park for supper at the Bungalow. The rest of the evening was spent either at the theatre or at the White Maple pavilion.

BOTTLE

Of Beer Sent To A Laundry By Mistake

Laundries receive queer articles which have accidentally become mixed with clothing and collars, but the queerest thing came to a local laundry Friday morning in the shape of a bottle of beer, carefully wrapped in a towel. At first, the proprietor thought somebody had made him a present and was on the point of thanking the sender, when a telephone call carried the information that the whole affair was an accident, that the beer had been chucked in with some towels until the owner had an opportunity to drink it, and that the bottle must be returned immediately to the owner as the day was hot and he was very thirsty and anyway, the amber beverage was a gift from a doting friend.
